

About the Author

Chester E. Finn, Jr. is president of the Thomas B. Fordham Institute, senior editor of Education Next, senior fellow at Stanford's Hoover Institution and chairman of Hoover's Task Force on K–12 Education. For 40 years, he has been in the forefront of the national debate about school reform

Finn previously served as founding partner of the Edison Project, Professor of Education and Public Policy at Vanderbilt University, Assistant Secretary for Research and Improvement at the U.S. Department of Education, Staff Assistant to the President of the United States, Special Assistant to the Governor of Massachusetts, Counsel to the U.S. Ambassador to India, Research Associate at the Brookings Institution and Legislative Director for Senator Daniel Patrick Moynihan.

Previous books include Troublemaker: A Personal History of School Reform Since Sputnik; No Remedy Left Behind, co-edited with Frederick M. Hess; Leaving No Child Behind: Options for Kids in Failing Schools, also co-edited with Hess; Charter Schools in Action: Renewing Public Education, co-authored with Bruno V. Manno and Gregg Vanourek; and The Educated Child: A Parent's Guide from Pre-School Through Eighth Grade, co-authored with William J. Bennett and John Cribb. He has also authored more than 400 articles in leading journals and newspapers.

A native of Ohio, he holds an undergraduate degree in U.S. history, a master's degree in social studies teaching, and a doctorate in education policy, all from Harvard University. He and his wife, Renu Virmani, a physician, have two grown children and two adorable pre-school granddaughters. They live in Chevy Chase, Maryland.